QuickPoll

Ergonomics and musculoskeletal disorder \(MSD\) in dentistry

Oral health care providers are at high risk for MSDs (such as carpal tunnel syndrome, neck, shoulder, and back pain) due to the nature of their work. These disorders can have a direct impact on productivity and professional longevity. Ergonomics - the science of fitting the work environment to the worker - is promoted as a key to preventing these disorders.

Please respond to the 5-question poll related to ergonomics to help us gain a better understanding of this topic.
