COVID-19 Quick Poll Results

To mitigate the transmission of COVID-19, dental practices have made several changes to their physical layouts and processes of care. We recently conducted a Quick Poll to gather insights on how network practices are adapting to the pandemic. Read more

Study Launching Soon

COVID-19 Impact Study

The network recently received funding to conduct a major national questionnaire study and registry about the impact of the pandemic on dental practice and ways to improve it. This will be the largest questionnaire study that the network will have ever conducted followed by opportunities to participate in learning webinars derived from the study results.

We may invite you to participate in the National Dental PBRN

COVID-19 REsearch (CORE) Registry study. We will recruit all active U.S. dental practitioners enrolled in the Network to participate in this important and timely study. Its purpose is to identify and evaluate information about effective approaches used by practitioners to mitigate COVID-19 transmission risks, their costs, and assess practitioners' comfort levels with these approaches.

Please be on the lookout in November and December for an invitation email from the network, just in case it does not make it past your spam filter. Read more
